

KEEP GARY HERE

DAVID CAMERON: "I am deeply saddened and worried about the case of Gary McKinnon. I am saddened because he is clearly a vulnerable young man with a recognised medical condition. I simply see no compassion in sending him away to serve a lengthy prison sentence, thousands of miles away from his home, his family and his friends. If he has questions to answer, there is a clear argument to be made that he should answer them in a British court. The Extradition Act was put in place to ensure terrorists didn't escape justice. It was never intended to deal with a case like Gary's."

KEEP GARY HERE

DAVID CAMERON: "I am deeply saddened and worried about the case of Gary McKinnon. I am saddened because he is clearly a vulnerable young man with a recognised medical condition. I simply see no compassion in sending him away to serve a lengthy prison sentence, thousands of miles away from his home, his family and his friends. If he has questions to answer, there is a clear argument to be made that he should answer them in a British court. The Extradition Act was put in place to ensure terrorists didn't escape justice. It was never intended to deal with a case like Gary's."

KEEP GARY HERE

DOMINIC GRIEVE: "The Gary McKinnon case throws into sharp relief the crude and clumsy extradition procedures Britain now has in place. The Extradition Act was introduced after 9/11, so that we could fast-track terrorist suspects to face trial abroad. The intention was reasonable. But it was never intended to operate in cases like this, diluting the safeguards protecting such a vulnerable man - and a British citizen at that. 'Ministers must make every effort to see justice done for Gary McKinnon.'"

KEEP GARY HERE

DOMINIC GRIEVE: "The Gary McKinnon case throws into sharp relief the crude and clumsy extradition procedures Britain now has in place. The Extradition Act was introduced after 9/11, so that we could fast-track terrorist suspects to face trial abroad. The intention was reasonable. But it was never intended to operate in cases like this, diluting the safeguards protecting such a vulnerable man - and a British citizen at that."

UK Trial or No Trial

FREEGARY

SENDER

PLEASE
PLACE
STAMP
HERE

Theresa May
The Home Office
2 Marsham Street
London SW1P 4DF

UK Trial or No Trial

FREEGARY

SENDER

PLEASE
PLACE
STAMP
HERE

Theresa May
The Home Office
2 Marsham Street
London SW1P 4DF

UK Trial or No Trial

FREEGARY

SENDER

PLEASE
PLACE
STAMP
HERE

Theresa May
The Home Office
2 Marsham Street
London SW1P 4DF

UK Trial or No Trial

Whose Country is This anyway?

FREEGARY

SENDER

PLEASE
PLACE
STAMP
HERE

Theresa May
The Home Office
2 Marsham Street
London SW1P 4DF